Question referred

Based on the facility documents and the default record, what is the optimal recovery pathway and is any further notice required before enforcement?

Counsel advice

On the assumptions reviewed, further contractual notice is not required before commencing the proposed enforcement step. We recommend confirming the priority of the receivables charge through an updated registry search before taking possession or issuing recovery instructions.

Advice limitations

This is a synthetic response for testing. The conclusion depends on the registry search and any competing security interests not supplied with the brief.

Recommended follow-up

Obtain the updated charge search, confirm the ranking, and return the result to counsel for a final enforcement confirmation.
